		They called themselves 'The Guilders'. In 1984 Kit Mills with theatre experience in Melbourne and London, joined the group. Freda Maude and Vera Harrison were still with the group in the 1980s and Kit Mills had become producer and script writer. The company presented fast moving revues. In November 1986, local paper The Geelong Advertiser reported: "For 22 years they have taken to the stage and delighted the people of Point Lonsdale with their irresistible comedy and nostalgic musical favourites. They have built up quite a following over the years, locals often take in several concerts, and people travel from Melbourne and country towns to share the frivolity. The group still has three of the original cast members – pianist Mrs May who, at 87, has missed only one rehearsal in that time, Mrs Maude, and Mrs Harrison.
